Nancy Roberts, a planning manager at Glatting Jackson Kercher Anglin Inc., has been elected the vice president of financial affairs for the Florida Planning and Zoning Association. The Association is a statewide organization that promotes cooperation among planning and zoning boards, commissions, citizens and other stakeholders involved in the municipal planning process. The association also promotes responsible development and use of land and natural resources.

Roberts has been an active member of the Association since 2000. Roberts became a planner at Glatting Jackson in 2003. Prior to that, her professional experience included serving as a senior-level planner for Tallahassee, Leon and Seminole counties, and Renaissance Planning Group in Orlando. Roberts served as the Association's Central Florida Chapter president from 2003 to 2004. She has served on the local chapter board since 2000 and on the state executive board since 2002.
